Dr. Mohammed Zainy Iraq's oil... Reality and Challenges

HDF in London will host the oil expert Dr Mohammed Ali Zainy on Wednesday, 21st March, 2018 at 7 pm to discuss the reality of the oil industry in Iraq and the challenges facing the advancement of the oil economy.

After completing his primary and secondary education in Iraq, Dr. Zainy won an engineering scholarship to the United Kingdom in 1957 and graduated in electrical engineering from Birmingham University. Returning to Iraq, he worked for 13 years in the areas of engineering and management for the Iraqi Ministry of Oil. He also obtained a Law degree from Mustansiriyah University, Baghdad. In 1974, he won a scholarship for a doctorate in petroleum economics. In 1975, he resigned as Senior Project Engineer with the Oil Refineries Administration and joined the Colorado School of Mines in the US and obtained an Masters as well as a Doctorate in Mineral Economics, with an emphasis on petroleum.

In 1980, he re-joined the Iraqi Ministry of Oil, where he worked for two years as Director of the Energy Studies Department. After representing Iraq at an OPEC conference in Vienna in October 1982, Dr Zainy defected to the United States with his family. Between 1983 and 1998, he worked as an executive and a consultant in the US oil industry, including seven years as Executive Vice President of a Colorado-based oil company, (Intoil, Inc.)

Mohammed Ali Zainy joined the London-based Centre for Global Energy Studies (CGES) in 1999 as Senior Energy Economist and Analyst. He has focused on the political economies of the Arabian Gulf countries and authored such studies as, "Saudi Arabia: Oil and the Challenges Ahead" and "Kuwait: The Way Forward," and "Saudi Arabia to 2020." In 2003, he became Oil Adviser with the Coalition Provisional Authority in Baghdad, but resigned after four months, later resuming his work with CGES. He has written a book entitled, "The Iraqi Economy: Past, Present and Future Options", which was published in 1995 and updated in 2003. More recently, he has co-authored a study entitled, "Post-Saddam Iraq: Oil & Gas, Economy, Finance and Politics," with Dr Fadhil Chalabi.
